Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Brien in view of Florian. O'Brien discloses a foot positioning member (60), a support mat (10), and a club positioning member (26 or 28, The club positioning device (26) may be a separate article which may be placed on the mat. If item 26 is indicia on the mat, the method step of "placing a club positioning member" is assumed to be the placement of the ball which acts as club positioning member).

However it fails to disclose the use of a mirror. Florian discloses the use of a mirror (8-b). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed the device of Florian with the apparatus of O'Brien in order to correctly train golfers in the proper foot position and head position. The step of placing the mirror on the mat surface would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art in order to use the device in the proper fashion.

As to claim 3 : Florian discloses that the use of an instruction manual is well known in the art (1:12-18). Providing a training manual would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed an instruction manual in order to correctly train golfers in the proper foot position and head position.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Brien in view of Florian as applied to claim 1 and further in view of Durso. The cited art of claim 2 fails to clearly disclose the use of an instructor. Durso discloses it is well known in the art to use professional when using golf instruction devices (6:51-55). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed the method disclosed by Durso with the apparatus of O'Brien in order to correctly train novice golfers in the proper foot position and head position.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Brien in view of Durso. O'Brien discloses an instructional device having markers being adjustable for an individual user (fig 1,item 60,26, .). O'Brien discloses the elements of claim 4, however it fails to disclose the step of having the instructor position the markers. Durso discloses it is well known in the art to use professional when using golf instruction devices (6:51-55). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have had the instructor position the markers because the instructor is more knowledgeable about correct positions than the student.

Art Unit: 3711

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McDevitt in view of Florian. McDevitt discloses the elements of claim 5, however it fails to disclose the use of a mirror. Florian discloses the use of a mirror. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed the device of Florian with the apparatus of McDevitt in order to correctly train golfers in the proper foot position and head position. The step of placing the mirror on the mat surface would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art in order to use the device in the proper fashion.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McDevitt in view of Latella. McDevitt discloses the elements of claim 6, however it fails to clearly disclose the use of an instructional manual. The inclusion of instructions of how to use a device is well known in the art. Latella discloses the use of an instructional manual (28:25-33). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed the method of including instructions as disclosed by Latella with the device of McDevitt in order to insure the device was used in the proper manner.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 3711

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of copending Application No. 10/127,621. The method of use claimed in this application would also be used in the co-pending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.
